RANDALL'S VISIT.

HE WILL NOT BE A MEMBER OF CLEVELAND'S CABINET.

McCarlie's Son in Albany. The Defeat of the Nicaragua Treaty Accredited to Mr. Bayard.
The Tractates Shumberg—The Dynamite Resolution Smothered.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—[Special.]—Mr.
Randall has returned from his visit to Cleveland. He has been besieged all day by interviewers, but to every one he gave the same brief answer:

"I can say nothing about my visit to Mr.
Cleveland."

From what I can gather I am sure his visit has settled one thing finally, and that is that Randall will not go into the cabinet. He will not for the reason that he does not want to.
A Pennsylvania congressman said to me tonight:

You can rely on this fact: I know it because Randall told me so. He had a full conversation with Cleveland concerning the cabinet, and it was of such a nature that he felt called upon to tell Cleveland that he did not desire any cabinet position, and was greatly preferred to remain in the house. I think Randall can be more useful where he is, and he thinks so too."

CARLISLE NOW IN ALBANY.

Carlisle's return from his visit to Cleveland is anxiously awaited. There is no thought that he will go into the cabinet, or that he desires to.
It is known that Cleveland sent him for as he sent for Randall. A special telegram to the Evening Star from Albany states that Cleveland sent for these two men as representatives of both wings of the party, and that he has sent for no one else, nor will he do so.
He announces that all those who desire to consult with him can come to see him when he goes to New York next week.

THE DEAD TREATY.

Secretary McCulloch Hoping of the Fa-ture.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—A conference was held at the treasury department to-day on the general question of the business prospects of the vote are made, but on good authority I believe this to be correct. Four democrats voted for the treaty. They were McPherson, Fair, Slater and Morgan. Brown and Farley were paired in favor of it. Riddleberger was the only republican who voted against it. Bayard's speech had a decided effect against the treaty, and he is receiving the lion's share of praise and blame from his opponents and friends. The New York Herald severely censures him to-day. On the other hand the opponents of the treaty are sounding their praises for what they pronounce his masterly effort. Senator Edmunds does not disguise his keen disappointment. He believed up to yesterday at noon that the treaty would be ratified, and Secretary Frelinghuysen was equally confident. This ends the treaty business for the present session. The Spanish treaty will fall still worse if its friends press it to a vote in the senate. Mr. Hewitt of New York, has about despaired of getting up the Mexican treaty in the house for legislation to carry it into effect.

THE DYNAMITE RESOLUTIONS.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—The gross earnings of the Norfolk and Western railroad
for December, $247,054; expenses, $111, 488, and net earnings, $113,566. Being an increase of $29,477, as compared with the corresponding month of the previous year. The gross earnings for the year 1884 were, $2,711, 104; expenses, $1,016,858, and net earnings,
$1,694,246. Being an increase of $108,956 as compared with 1883.

THE Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last several days, as reported to W. G. Dan-ton, the president of the United States 37, and for Canada 37, total 354, against 411 last week, and 420 the previous week. The decrease is in every section of the country, though the failures in the west and south are still very numerous.

CARLISLE IN ALBANY.

The Suggestions Which He Has to Present
to Mr. Cleveland.

ALBANY, N. Y., January 30.—Speaker Carlisle and wife arrived here this evening, and immediately went to rooms prepared for them.
Mr. Carlisle later was driven to President-elect Cleveland's residence. The letter in answer to which Mr. Carlisle came to Albany is understood to have stated that the president-elect would be glad to see him, and to avail
himself of any suggestions
Garlie might have to offer in regard to the measures and men for the cabinet. It is believed that Carlisle, while he will not accept a cabinet position, is very anxious to have a small position, a tar-former as secretary of the treasury. He does not urge the selection of a pronounced free-trader, but will be satisfied with a man of moderate reform views. Carlisle passed the evening with Governor Hill.

ALABAMA LEGISLATION.

One of Vincent's Bondsmen Pays Up His Liability.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., January 30.—[Special.]
The all absorbing topic to-day was the failure of the remaining railroad bills. The house defeated all pending measures.

The bill regulating the transmission and delivery of telegraphic messages, passed the house to-day. It fixes the duties of the companies and prescribes penalties.

The bill repealing the two per cent tax on the receipts of persons loaning money on farm lands, passed the house.

The senate has taken no action on the governor's nominations for railroad commissioners.

The senate passed the bill renewing the charter of the Bienville waterworks of Mobile.

Mr. Pratt, a bondsmen of the defaulting treasurer, paid $25,000, which was discharged in full.

The governor sent to the senate on board of pediary inspectors the names of Messrs.
Dawson, Lee and Henley, the present incumbents.

THE STATE LEGISLATURES.

The State Officers of Illinois Sworn to Service.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., January 30.—The senate and assembly met in joint session this afternoon, and after canvassing the votes the new state officers were duly installed. Governor Gleash's inaugural address was brief and devoted to the state of Jones, who received 48, Dunn
41, and Berry 27.

PAKISTAN. January 30.—In the balloting

for United States senator to-day, showed a change of five votes to Jones, who received 48, Dunn
41, and Berry 27.

PAKISTAN. January 30.—In the balloting for United States senator to-day, the democrats voted for John W. Hirsch. Hirsch received seven votes, a gain of three over yesterday, but the vote for the other candidates showed no material change.

THE TELEGRAPH MUDDLE.

A Suit Served Upon the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

BALTIMORE, January 30.—This afternoon
process were served upon the officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company at the instance of William O. Ross, of Orange N. J., shareholder in that corporation, for the purpose of recovering the relations that exist between the Baltimore and Ohio telegraph company and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company; the amount of money which has been expended on the latter; the authority for
the same, and to inquire what losses or
profits have been incurred or realized by
the railroad company or its officers.
The suit, brought on behalf of himself and as many others who will join him, takes the proceedings in the United States circuit court.

The bill of complaint is very ample, and sets forth in full detail the powers possessed by the railroad company, which the plaintiff

avers do not include the power to advance large sums to outside corporations, such as the Baltimore and Ohio telegraph system, as the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company is only a stock company, and the amount of money which has been expended on the latter; the authority for
the same, and to inquire what losses or
profits have been incurred or realized by

THE PORT ROYAL ROAD. SUIT FOR A RECEIVER AGAINST THE CENTRAL.

Horrific Death of a Young Man—A Mysterious Goblet—Kidnapped Boy Returns—Murder in Wilkerson's—On the Trail of a Cattle Thief—
The Louisville Hotel Burned.

AUGUSTA, Ga., January 30.—The bill of complaint has been filed in the clerks office of the superior court, praying for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the Port Royal and Augusta railroad company, its property and franchises. The action is investigated by the holders of the second mortgage bonds of the company, who allege that the Central railroad, and bank company, now owning a majority of the stock and operating the Port Royal and Augusta railway, are compelling the Port Royal and Augusta railroad company to pay the interest on the sinking fund of the third mortgage, made to the Central railroad and banking company, and to pay all the interest on the second mortgage bonds. The terms of the second mortgage bond provides that no dividend or interest shall be paid to any junior lien. The bill is to recover to the holders of the second mortgage bonds the amounts unjustly paid on the third mortgage, and prays that the second mortgage be foreclosed for their benefit; that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the road, and that the officers be required to account for all sums wrongly paid under the third mortgage, and due to the holders of the bonds under the second mortgage. The hearing will be had at the April term of the superior court.

HIS BRAINS BLOWN OUT.

The Horrible Death of a Thomasville Young Man.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—About 2:45 o'clock this afternoon E. B. Allen shot himself at his mother's boarding house, on Madison street, with a double-barrel shotgun, the load taking effect in the forehead, just above the eyes, laying open the skull to the brain, making a most ghastly wound. The brains and blood were spattered on the ceiling and the walls. It is not known whether the shooting was accidental or intentional.

A Kidnapped Boy Returns.

SAVANNAH, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—Several weeks since Edward A. Flanagan, in the employ of McDonough & Co., a photographic writer, suddenly disappeared from the city, causing his family great uneasiness. The boy was only sixteen years of age. It has just been developed that he had been inveigled on a sloop commanded by Captain John Cox and carried off. The sloop has been trading between here and the coast. The boy was captured about two weeks ago, when he was nine miles below the city. He had been home and narrated the particulars to his father this morning, who immediately had warrants issued against the captain and the mate, charging them with kidnapping a minor. The parties will have a preliminary examination to-morrow. They deny the charge and say the boy came to them and begged to be allowed to make the trip.

On the Trail of a Cattle Thief.

ATLANTA, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—Lieutenant Arnold, of the Atlanta police force, leaves for Austin, Texas, after Charlie Ivory, the negro cattle thief, who stole a drove of cattle from Booth Bros. and fled to Texas. Ivory was captured once before but escaped. He has been again captured in Austin, and will be brought back here for trial.

Murder in Wilkes.

WASHINGTON, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—Jim Johnson killed Tom Richardson on the plantation of Mr. G. B. Hobert, five miles south of here, yesterday. They had previously had some ill feelings about a woman, whom Johnson went to the field where Richardson was at work and knocked him in the head with an ax. Johnson has fled. Both are wanted.

DECATOR POLITICS.

The Cemetery Record—A City Election to be Held.

ATLANTA, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—The report of the section of Decatur cemetery informs us there were burials in the cemetery last year, 24 whites and 86 colored, of these 24 were males and 36 females, 29 were non-residents.

Major Y. K. Kirkpatrick has ordered an election for next Monday for two councilmen to fill the vacancy in the board on account of a failure to elect in one case, and for two aldermen in the case of the present councilman, O. T. Terry. C. M. Gandler, J. H. Gross and H. C. Austin. We have heard four names mentioned that will probably be voted for Monday. Dr. J. H. Green, T. R. Kamm, Dr. J. C. Crockett and H. R. Anderson.

The council will have to elect a marshal and clerk for this year, and as several names are mentioned in connection with both positions the chances are that considerable interest will be manifested Monday in the election of the two councilmen. The salary of the marshal is $80 per month, the clerks $75 per annum, with strong probability of both being reduced about 20 or 25 per cent by the new council.

Thomasville's Affairs.

THOMASVILLE, January 30.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the city council, last night, the following officers were elected:

C. H. Williams, clerk of council.

John Miller, marshal.

W. P. Cox, police captain.

Major Goff and J. T. Kottman, night policemen.

Election of chairman, keeper and sexton deferred till next meeting.

The Prohibition Campaign.

CAVE SPRINGS, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—The prohibition campaign is red hot. The whisky men are growing somewhat discouraged all over the country, and the general impression prevails that if an honest election is had Floyd county will go for prohibition in a handsome majority.

A Mysterious Goblet.

SAVANNAH, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—This morning a sailor, giving the name of Henry Flynn, was arrested by Detective Kaufman in the pawnshop of E. Muhlburg, with a massive silver goblet, large size, which he was trying to pawn. The goblet bore the inscription, "Charles Royal, Louisville, born City Port Royal, July 15, 1876, D. F. A."

Flynn is said to be the goblet, which is said to be worth $50, belonged to his cousin, and being half up had brought the goblet with him. The article is now in possession of the detective waiting the demand of the owner. Flynn has been released.

Death of J. H. McTyre.

AMERICUS, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—J. H. McTyre, a leading dry goods merchant of this city, died today of pneumonia. He had been in bad health for some time, and had fallen into financial embarrassment. He had made an assignment to J. B. Forder for the benefit of his creditors. He was a most honorable gentleman, and was held in universal esteem.

A Peccary Cow.

LAWRENCEVILLE, January 30.—[Special.]—Mr. G. W. Ambrose, of this town owns a fine cow which is advantageously peculiar in this respect. After milking her straight, the family leaves the calf and she will not eat. She will not eat at all during the night, but when they go to milk her, then the calf will come up to suck, and not until then does the calf get any milk. He holds her at one hundred dollars.

The Louisville Hotel Burned.

LOUISVILLE, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—The Central hotel of this place was burned at 4 o'clock this morning. The house was full of guests at the time, and some narrowly escaped with their lives. Nothing was saved. The fire is supposed to be the result of an accident from the careless use of matches or lamps. The loss is about $3,000; insurance $1,000.

The Population of Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., January 30.—[Special.]—The new directory of Savannah is out to day. It gives the population by careful census at 44,531, a gain of 120 over last year. Whites, 35,792; blacks, 12,111.

A SHADOW ON THE WALL.

A Highly Sensational Story for a Long Time Disturbed a Quiet Family.

From the Athens, Ga., Banner.

Horrific Death of a Young Man—A Mysterious Goblet—Kidnapped Boy Returns—Murder in Wilkes—On the Trail of a Cattle Thief—The Louisville Hotel Burned.

Some time since, in our city, a young lady had retired to bed, but had not blown out the lamp. Her glance rested on a spot on the wall, where was clearly outlined the shadow of a man's profile, who had been in the room, and was looking at her. The lamp was dim, and the shadow was dim, and menacing look. With a wild shriek she sprang from her couch, and in her gown, rushed into a parlor where some friends were sitting. Pale and trembling she stated that a man was concealed in her room, and described the figure on the wall. Arming themselves with such weapons as were at hand, the children all passed up the stairs. ATLANTA, JANUARY 31, 1885.

INDICATIONS for the South Atlantic States at 1 a. m., warmer, partly cloudy weather and local rains, variable winds, generally easterly.

The exposition again has to complain of a poor day's receipts, owing to the rains. It looks as if the management must adopt some heroic remedy. The railroads hold the key to the situation by adopting the cent-a-mile rate.

The cheap rates to the west, which have so agitated the traveling railroad public for several days past, are at an end. The agents of the warring roads have met and coalesced, and the result is the withdrawal of the great inducements to emigrate.

Mr. BAYARD, even before he takes his official place as the director of Cleveland's administrative policy, has succeeded in winning the ear of the senate so far as to control legislation. The defeat of the Nicaraguan treaty is regarded as being entirely his work.

The trial of some mutinous seamen in Portsmouth, England, has brought to light another tragedy after the manner of the Julia Baker crime in the gulf. From the moment that he left Havre the captain feared poison at the hands of the steward, and at last he was set upon and murdered.

The pilgrimage to Albany continues. The train which brought Mr. Randall back from his close talk with Cleveland, was passed by the train bearing Mr. Carlisle, who goes to Albany to impress upon the president-elect the necessity of appointing a tariff reformer for the secretaryship of the treasury.

ATLANTA may as well awaken now as later to the fact that she has the poorest system of waterworks of probably any city of her size in the country. After an expenditure of large amounts of money for the purpose of giving the city ample protection from fire by a thorough system of waterworks, we now find ourselves almost in the same fix as before we had any at all. The chief of the fire department is not satisfied in the fact that he has not depend on the waterworks. His reply is that he does not, for the old city cisterns are relied on in case of emergency. There is hardly a night but that the water is shut off from two to three hours, much to the inconvenience of many business enterprises in the city. Something should be done and done quickly, to give Atlanta a system of waterworks in keeping with the magnitude of the city.

HENRY WATTERSON ONCE MORE. Long ago we put on record, plainly and deliberately, our opinion of Mr. Henry Watterson. Our words lodged in his memory and have rankled there. He has not been able to lose them in the flippant enthusiasm of conceit, to blot them out with overwhelming vanity, to forget them in the rush and bustle of business, or to dissolve them in the flowing bowl to which he repairs for solace. They stuck in all despite, and at last have stung him—not to many defense—but into wordy speech.

Clearly, we cannot follow Mr. Watterson into the long-range, mud-throwing match to which he invites us. We have already exhausted our powers of statement and invective as to him. Iteration cannot strengthen the words with which we characterize this vapid and venal fellow, and which still festers in his memory. We prefer to leave them to do their own work, which they are doing well. Until Mr. Watterson has forgotten them, and even men of his stripe do not soon forget such words, we shall not expect a diminution of the childish and unmanly rage into which they have driven him—unless, indeed, he should reach some many resolution, or rapture into the silence which at least would not advertise his ineffectual passion.

BLAINE AND THE DYNAMITERS. The New York Evening Post calls attention to the significant fact that the Irish faction in the west coast of Florida have terrorized that region for a year past, and recent developments have attracted attention all over the country. A short time ago these things murdered Mr. Able, the postmaster at Sarasota. The northern papers pronounced the affair a regular Ku-Klux assassination, and so much excitement was stirred up that the good citizens of Sarasota decided to vindicate their city by hunting them to justice. Their efforts have been successful, and it is announced that everyone of the scoundrels has been lodged in jail. Their names are given by the Jacksonville Times-Union as L. F. Andrews, A. B. Bidwell, Joseph Anderson, Charles Willard, Edmund P. Bacon, Dr. Hunter, Louis Cato, Thomas Drynan, John Fletcher, James Fletcher, John Tipton, a lawyer named Bartholomew, Miles Brown and Counsel Brown. All these except the four latter, who are buried as accessories in the Five Level jail, which is kept securely guarded and will be until Judge Mitchell can organize a special term of court to try them.

The visit of Prince Napoleon and his son to the Atlanta Constitution is the leading daily of the south. Its position as a great newspaper is only equalled by its efforts to defend itself. It is the only paper in the city that has a section and state. The CONSTITUTION, like all great papers, has its jealous rivals who are anxious to throttle its influence, yet it goes on unimpaired, and it is a credit to the people and the paper.

Mr. MAHON, of Virginia, is now a prominent figure in the American colony of Paris, but even this can scarcely compensate her misfortune in being married to a man universally and justly known as "Billy."

DAVID H. DOUGHERTY.

A FOUL MURDER.

An Old Man Murdered and His Body Left to Burn in Fireplace.

From the Birmingham, Ala., Age.

A man, 72 years old, was brought to Birmingham of one of the most horrible murders that has ever been committed in Jefferson county. The scene near Jonesboro: the victim an old man seventy-six years of age, and his young wife the murderer.

Seven months ago, Bennett Parsons, aged 72 years, was estranged from his wife, who was twenty years younger than himself. This was Parsons' second wife, his first having died many years ago. The cause of the separation is not known, but there was bitter feeling and the old man on one occasion told his son-in-law, Bennett Parsons, that his wife had said she would kill him if ever he came to the house again.

Night before last the husband sought his wife's residence for reasons unknown, and yesterday morning she and her daughters spent the day in the house. The report is that Bennett Parsons had been murdered. Neighbors heard a noise and found the old man dead—shot in the head and his body partially burned. There was no evidence that tended to show that suicide had been committed. The story told by the wife and daughters is that Parsons came into the house, which is a double log cabin divided into two rooms. Shortly afterwards they all (wife and daughter) went out of the house into the yard and while there heard a gun fire, but paid no attention to it. They then went to bed. On waking yesterday morning they went into the room occupied by Parsons—they found him dead and his body burning on the hearth.

These were all the facts to be gathered in the city, and a telegram was sent to Mr. McAdory, at Jonesboro, asking him to inquire of the particulars of the murder. The following answer came:

One of the most horrible and premeditated murders ever committed in this section of Jefferson county was the killing of Bennett Parsons, an old and feeble man, who had been a highly respected citizen of this country and bear a good name among the merchants and citizens with whom he had occasion to trade. He had always been looked upon as eccentric in his manner of living, and it was said that he was not strong enough ill will against him to murder him for his blood. Three or four months ago he was tried in the county court on a charge of assault and battery, provoked by a man who had been a pest to him. Parsons brought his wife and daughters to Birmingham in his own wagon so that they might testify against him.
